Abstract

The WYRED (netWorked Youth Research for Empowerment in the Digital society) project has celebrated its third face-to-face meeting in Florence (Italy) at November 13th – 15th, 2017.

The research projects are one of the proposed activities in order to young people explore the WYRED topics. Performing a research project within the WYRED platform needs to have clear objectives and a good mentoring strategy. These are the main questions that were discussed related to this topic in the meeting.
